BIOGRAPHY

Christopher (Chris) Bonifacino is a senior regional consultant with over 27 years of experience. Chris began his career in the construction management industry working as a project engineer and project manager for a mid-sized construction management firm and later moved on to project management and operations management for a mid-sized general contractor.

Since joining YA Group, Chris has consulted on fire, water, wind, hail, and builder's risk losses ranging from single residential homes to large, multiple building commercial complexes. Chris has further developed his consulting repertoire by obtaining WRT, FSRT, and LEED AP certifications.

Reach out to Chris Bonifacino today for his expertise on your next project.
